Player of the Year – Steve Welsh, Franklin & Marshall, Sr., Attack

Notes

- Welsh is the first Franklin & Marshall player to earn Centennial Player of the Year honors. He is the first attackman to receive the award since 1998 when Haverford's Brian Bean was honored.
- Stewart, Capone, Mitten and Vetter become the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th players in Centennial history to earn first-team honors three times.
- Spivey was the only unanimous selection of the Conference's nine head coaches.
- Stewart is just the second junior in CC history to earn first-team honors in each of his first three seasons, joining Gettysburg alum Matt McMillen who turned the trick in 2000-01-02.
- Three students were also named to the Conference Academic Honor Roll, which recognizes sophomores, junior and seniors who are key performers and have a 3.40 cumulative grade point average or higher.
