Player of the Year – Pat Vaughan, Gettysburg, Jr., Goalkeeper

Notes

- Vaughan is the fifth Gettysburg player to earn Centennial Player of the Year honors. He is the third Bullet goalkeeper to earn the award, joining Andrew Barter (1999-00) and Tim McGinnis (2002).
- Vaughan, Renzi and Kerr were the lone first-team repeaters from 2005.
- Brian Read was the only unanimous selection of the Conference's nine head coaches. He and his brother, Chris, are the first brother combination to earn first-team All-CC honors.
- Read and Boyd are Dickinson's first-ever representatives on the Centennial first team.
- Five students were also named to the Conference Academic Honor Roll, which recognizes sophomores, junior and seniors who are key performers and have a 3.40 cumulative grade point average or higher.
